KOVAI UROCON-2025

Urologic surgery is highly satisfying for both patient and the surgeon. Most of the surgeries are minimally invasive and the cost is affordable. However not all surgeries are successful and failures do occur due to various reasons. Unfortunately patients tend to attribute failures to surgical causes. Technological advancements and surgical knowledge have enhanced the success rate to greater extent. Failures do cause apprehension to both patient and surgeon. It involves medicolegal aspects too. KOVAI UROCON will address the causes, prevention and management of urological surgical failures. It will help each and every practicing urologist in proper advanced care of the patient.
